My husband Bob and I had a party at our home this past Saturday night. I asked the caterer if he could recommend someone to entertain our 22 guests many of whom did not know each other.

He said that he had just done a large party and had met a young man who was fantastic. He said he was a mentalist. I was not sure what a mentalist was and called Marc, the mentalist immediately.

I expressed that I wanted it to be light and fun.

Well, he was amazing. Our company is still talking about him and how fantastic he was.

He came for the Cocktail hour; then waited for us to all eat and then stayed for another hour or more and had my guests in the palm of his hand.

He is adorable; professional, so personable and just amazing.

We have no idea how he does what he does but he does it with a huge smile and has everyone laughing.

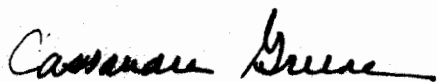

I think that he really made our evening.

The food was great, nice people but it was definitely Marc and his amazing abilities that had everyone staying well past midnight.

If you have any questions please don't hesitate to call me. Both my husband and I would be more than happy to tell you just how great he was.

We cannot wait to have another party and have Marc be a part of it.

Sincerely,

Cassandra Greene
