To whom it may concern: RE: Magic Marc

My wife recently threw a birthday party for me. Leading up to the party she suggested we have a magician. I was hesitant at 1st, because I envisioned something obtrusive and annoying.

We had 80 people at our house and it turned out to be the best thing we could have done. Marc was fantastic! He was unassuming as he engaged people during the party, but soon had small groups throughout the night that were mesmerized by his talented and fun performance.

I highly recommend him to you for any event that you want people talking about for days afterward.
